DoingGood Week 2022

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

About the DoingGood Foundation

Empowering those empowering our communities!

We believe that nonprofits, although different in some regards from for-profits, do have similarities when it comes to running a business.

As a small nonprofit ourselves, the DoingGood Foundation knows the challenges of learning how to run a business & nonprofit and felt it was our mission to provide programs and services to help small nonprofits, not just survive, but THRIVE!

About DoingGood Week 2022

Empowering Small Nonprofit Professionals with Business Savvy

FIVE day, online conference, featuring business education specifically designed to meet the needs of small 501(c)(3) nonprofits. Topics covered range from accounting to volunteer management and are presented by for-profit and nonprofit professionals.

Our goals

Learning from all sectors

Covering many subjects, we recruit presenters and trainers who know what they are talking about and can help attendees apply it.

Learn it Friday, Apply it Monday

All presenters & trainers are specifically chosen because they don't just teach, they show attendees how to apply what is taught.

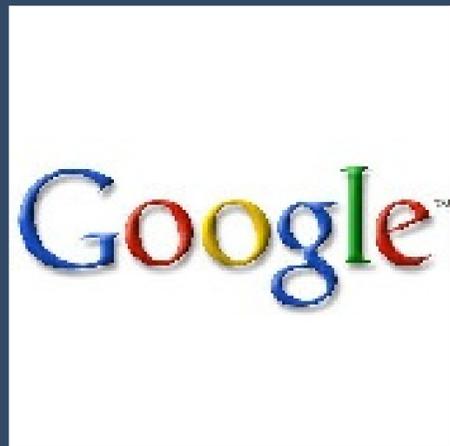

Collaboration is Key

Collaboration is more important than ever in the nonprofit sector. We encourage this through our online social & cause-focused events.

Who attends DoingGood Week

We gather bright and passionate people from different sectors

Many of our attendees are founders and Executive Directors of small, community based nonprofits.

Although a majority are C-Level execs for small nonprofits, we also attract Board members, staff, volunteers and interns from these type of organizations.

We encourage students to attend our sessions and offer "student passes" for those interested in nonprofits, or helping nonprofits.

Chantae Thomas - Volunteer

"I made wonderful connections... Make sure that you and your organization, any volunteers, board members, as many people as you can, get them to go to DoingGood Week."

Katie Hilborn - Global Orphan Prevention

"Are you still holding your nonprofit conference this year? The prices on here are outrageous [referring to a traditional NPO Association Conference], and I'd much rather attend yours!"

Lauren Fine - Ghana Educational Collaborative

"it is an incredible opportunity for small nonprofits to network, learn and grow together...We left with having clear takaways and action items."
